

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

BizFlick.com Launches New Video Marketing Tool for SMBs

Company's Vmercials allow small and medium businesses to enter growing online video marketing space

Tampa, Fla. (April 1, 2008) — BizFlick.com today announced the launch of its new website (www.BizFlick.com), which allows small and medium businesses (SMBs) to advertise online at no cost, by posting Vmercials™ (video commercials).

SMBs formerly unable to mass market can now post Vmercials for free through BizFlick.com. Businesses can create and upload a Vmercial (video commercial) enabling them to showoff their products and Services both locally and globally.

BizFlick.com Vice President and Co-founder Patrick Connelly said, “BizFlick levels the playing field, so whether your company has an advertising budget of $100 or $1,000,000, your products and services will be seen and reviewed by the same potential customers.”

BizFlick.com services are used by consumers who are tired of wasting time, energy and money searching countless advertisements, classifieds and phone listings for the products and services they need. BizFlick.com’s Vmercials give users the ability to learn about businesses, and read, post and share reviews.

About BizFlick.com

BizFlick.com is a Tampa, Florida-based business founded by technology consultants whose goal was to create an online marketplace empowering businesses to utilize online video technology to advertise their products and services.
